Specialized communication services for ambitious businesses in Portugal

Having worked with many types of companies (and governmental and non-governmental organizations) in different areas and countries, Alfred Jansen is now offering his communications and language services to ambitious and quality-oriented companies in Portugal.

Contrary to what many people believe, communication is not just communicating. It is all about making profitable connections.

Alfred Jansen provides everything companies need for their day-to-day communication: content written for websites, brochures or presentations, graphic design, photography and event organization. His services will give you a lot more than that: his services focus on international projects, different cultures and languages. His focus is on connecting.

If you don't get the language and the tone of your communication absolutely right, you will not be able to successfully compete in other European countries.

Experienced in a wide range of areas: automotive, transportation, logistics, ICT, GDPR / Privacy, tourism, fashion, healthcare and social inclusion. In addition to communication services (content and media production), Alfred Jansen offers training, events and presentations with an international approach.

Focus:

- Multinational companies and organizations with international operations in Portugal.
- Portuguese companies with international clients, such as tourism, restaurants/bars, personal transport, logistics, ICT.
- Portuguese companies with activities (or ambitions) abroad.
- Start-ups, investors, governments and communications and marketing agencies looking for multilingual/multicultural connections.
- Any company looking for quality in communication.

A low starting budget shouldn't be an obstacle to grow your business, particularly in these times of crisis! Please ask for special tariffs on an hourly or project basis.
